This is the type of game you play with a group. It's great for laugh and casual gaming. It's not a game for those who are invested in building skills or applying critical thinking. It's a party game for a reason, and if you're looking to entertain a group this game will do just that.

Tonya C.

Great game! A lot of fun. My group of 6 were able to learn quickly and played for over three hours. A lot of laughs, very easy to get involved. I would strongly recommend for a casual game night or to play with friends who aren't usually gamers.

I bought this game on a rainy day when my family was on vacation. Everyone loved it! It was definitely worth the investment. I like how easy the rules were and how quickly I was able to understand the game. Everything I needed was in the box, so it was easy to just pick up and play. Good for a mid-sized or larger group. Would recommend for families.

Darrell

Fun game, but not super unique. I've played a few like it before. Still, had a good time with my group. This isn't the type of game you need to invest a lot of attention into.
